The Langtang Valley Trek offers a great excursion into the Langtang region of Nepal, combining beautiful Himalayan scenery with a rich exposure to the Tibetan-influenced Tamang culture. You walk through rhododendron forests, open-vista mountain trails, traditional villages, and picturesque Buddhist cultural sites, including monasteries, mani walls, and chhortens. After a scenic drive from Kathmandu, the trek starts in Syabrubesi. During the following days, we go through mountain villages that still follow customary lifestyles, such as agriculture and livestock farming. Enjoying the natural panoramas and green hill gorges, we reach Lama Hotel and enter the Langtang Valley from Ghoda Tabela, passing ancient prayer wheels, mani walls and fluttering Buddhist prayer flags.

Langtang Valley Trek, We eventually reach Kyanjin Gompa after crossing a cheese factory and local production shops. The spiritual richness of this magical region is enhanced by hidden artifacts and mountain views of Langtang Lirung (7,246 m), Sisha Pangma (8,027m) and the Ganesh Himal range. The morning after our arrival at Kyanjin Gomba, we have the option of walking up Tserko Ri (5,033 meters/16,500 feet).

We return to Syabrubesi by the way we came and drive to Kathmandu. This trip can be extended by Langtang Valley trek to the spiritual mountain lake of Gosaikunda (4,380m). Please, contact us for more details.
