Mardi Himal Trek Overview

Mardi Himal Trek is one of the best short treks in Nepal. It takes you close to the amazing mountains of the Annapurna region. It is a hidden gem in the Annapurna region of Nepal.

The trek starts from Pokhara after a short drive from Kathmandu.

Mardi Himal Trek is perfect for both first-time trekkers and experienced hikers. The path is less crowded compared to other treks like Annapurna Base Camp. It gives a more peaceful and personal experience with nature.

At first, the trail leads you to Deurali Village. After that, you reach Australian Camp which offers lovely views. Then you walk through terraced farmlands and enter the green forests.

The path feels peaceful with the sound of birds and the fresh smell of trees.

From Forest Camp, you climb up to Low Camp. Slowly the trees become fewer and you start to see the White Mountains. The views of Annapurna South, Mount Machhapuchhre, and Mount Hiunchuli are truly magical. Every step gives you a better view than the last.

Yes, exactly! You'll be looking at stunning views of Machhapuchhre (Fishtail), the Annapurna mountain range, and Hiunchuli.

Next, you trek to High Camp. This part of the trail is a bit steep but the fresh air and open skies will make it worth it. From High Camp, the sunrise and sunset are just unforgettable. You feel very close to the mountains.

The biggest highlight comes when you reach Mardi Himal Base Camp. It stands tall at 4,500 meters. The climb is hard but the reward is huge. You can see a full panoramic view of the Annapurna range. The peaks look so close that you feel you can touch them.

After enjoying the Base Camp, you walk back down to Low Camp. From there, you take a different route towards Siding Village. This way you do not have to walk the same trail back. Siding is a quiet Gurung village where you can see the simple life of the locals.

From Siding, you take a drive back to Pokhara. It feels great to reach the city after days of walking in the mountains. You can relax by the lakeside and enjoy a delicious meal.

The complete trek can be done in 5 days or more depending on your plan. If you have more time, you can even combine it with Poon Hill Trek or Annapurna Base Camp Trek.

Mardi Himal Trek shows you the real beauty of Nepal. From colorful forests to snowy mountains, every day brings a new surprise. It is a journey that touches your heart and leaves you with memories for a lifetime.
